

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The PCSAO Factbook is a true product of team work and partnerships, made possible by the generous support and assistance of many people.

First and foremost, a huge thank you to the dedicated and committed directors and employees of the 88 County Public Children Services Agencies for their willingness to research, review and report on a variety of data elements presented in this publication. We appreciate the enthusiastic support and endorsement of this important biennial project from outgoing-PCSAO Board President, Eric Fenner (we wish him well in retirement!), incoming-President, Chip Spinning, and the entire PCSAO Board of Trustees.

Special thanks go to several statewide partners: Michael Colbert, Director, Michael McCreight, Assistant Director and Sandra Holt, Deputy Director at ODJFS, for their full support of this project.

Dan Shook, ODJFS Office of Families and Children, Bureau of Fiscal Accountability, for sharing his knowledge and expertise on child welfare funding and his attentiveness to ensure the most accurate and available public expenditures.

Eric Mency, ODJFS Bureau of County Finance and Technical Assistance, Office of Fiscal & Monitoring, and his entire staff for helping us navigate the intricacies of CFIS over/under reports.

David Hubble and Senarath Abeyratne at the ODJFS Bureau of Automated Systems for providing the bulk of the child protection data presented and prioritizing this project, especially given workloads while managing other information technology assignments.

Roger Ward, Data Project Manager for the Supreme Court of Ohio's Court Improvement Project and ODJFS (and affectionately known in the child welfare community as the "data guru"), for the new data set and line graph showing the number of children in placement at year's end.

Steve Hanson and Brian Farrington, from the Supreme Court of Ohio, for collaborating with us to present Court performance data for the first time in the PCSAO Factbook, recognizing the interconnectedness of PCSAs, the Courts and Ohio's ability to achieve outcomes for children and families as measured by the standards/benchmarks set by the national Child and Family Services Review (CFSR).

Joan Van Hull, CFSR oversight and evaluation expert at ODJFS, for help in understanding the new, complex system of outcome indicators and working with us to present easy to understand, consistent and accurate CFSR data.

Dan Hecht and Maureen Corcoran, Office of Ohio Health Plans, for the Medicaid information provided and their detailed understanding of eligibility.

Hilary Metelko and Jonathan Thomas from the Ohio Department of Health's Division of Family and Community Health Services for providing Help Me Grow data.

Mary Lou Owens, Data Manager at the ODJFS Office of Families and Children, for providing OWF/TANF and other Supports to Self Sufficiency data.

Carri Brown and Tim Hennessy, ODJFS, Office of Child Support, for their ever vigilant response in sharing recent child support collections and paternity establishments.

Marianne Mottley, Management Analyst Supervisor, in the Office of Policy and Accountability at the Ohio Department of Education for supplying high school graduation rates by County.

Eben Dowell, Senior Research Associate at Community Research Partners, for sharing his expertise and understanding of the nuances associated with Census data and providing the most current state/county population numbers and poverty rates.

George Zeller, for his life's work and dedication to research and monitoring economic factors in Ohio, including unemployment among others.

Mark Mecum and Penny Wyman for the OACCA Outcomes Data project information.

Scott Britton, Coordinator, Advocates for Ohio's Future, for lending his desktop publishing talents to fine tune some of the ads in the Community Resources section.

David Schultz, David Potts, Amanda Nettler and the entire team at beckmanXMO for once again producing the best Factbook ever. They have published a total of three editions for us and keep setting the bar higher each year and continue to surpass all expectations – how is that humanly possible?

All of the Community Partners who supported this publication through promotional space in the Community Resources section – thank you!

Heartfelt thanks must be extended to the entire PCSAO staff – for their daily passion, expertise, and advocacy on achieving the mission of PCSAO. Their knowledge and individual contributions to this Factbook are invaluable – there is a piece of every one of us contained within: Crystal Ward Allen, Executive Director; Gayle Channing Tenenbaum, Director of Policy and Governmental Affairs; Rhonda Reagh, Ph.D., Assistant Director; Jeed Jitprasert, Operations Manager; Kay Marshall, Administrative Coordinator.

Finally, four very special thank you's go to:

Julie Cibulskas who continues to earn the title of Factbook Assistant extraordinaire! She has worked on the past five editions entering data, creating each individual chart and graph, meticulously reviewing for accuracy and simply making each County's profile pages look great. She's amazing!

Rachel Lewis, a PCSAO student intern from The Ohio State University John Glenn School of Public Affairs and a senior from Grandview Heights High School, for double checking the Child & Custody Profile percentages – not the most exciting task in the world, but she was efficient and accurate and always with a smile.

Crystal Ward Allen, PCSAO Executive Director (who is responsible for creating the Factbook and publishing the first four editions), for her leadership and guidance throughout the process on details related to several sections including public expenditures, the narrative and CFSR write-up/charts and providing that occasional nudge to set deadlines and keep the project moving toward the finish line.

Sally Kapcar for her support and encouragement, professionally and throughout life.

As you can see, a project of this magnitude would not be possible without the support and assistance from many people. Thank you!
